Instructions

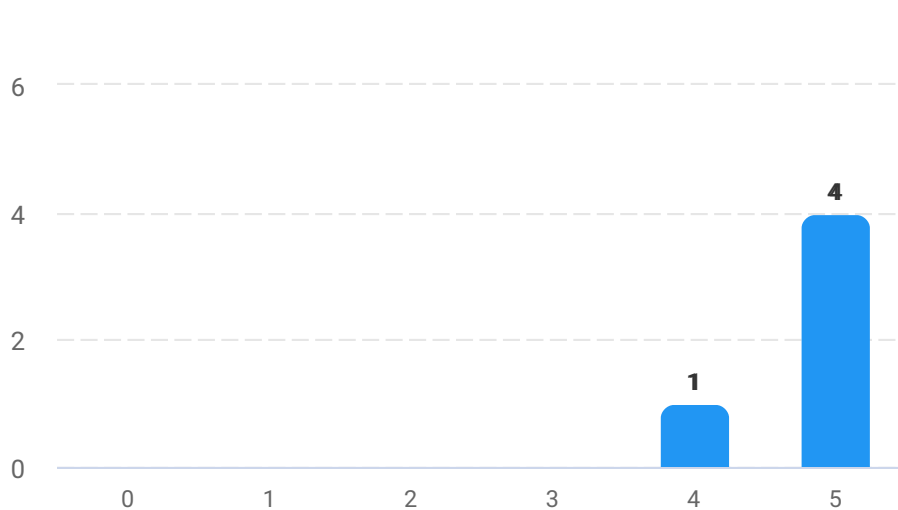

The faculty of the College of Arts & Sciences is committed to enhancing student learning by continuous improvement of our courses and our teaching. Your answers to the following questions will be used as part of the evaluation of the course and as part of the evaluation of this instructor. Your comments to the open-ended questions are particularly useful for course improvement, as were those given by students who took this course before you. Note that your answers to these questions are confidential. After final grades are submitted, results of this survey will be shared anonymously with the instructor and the Department Head. Thank you very much for your participation in this important process.

Open-Ended

8

What were the most beneficial aspects of this course? (Please be specific)

(Text/Memo)

- having the option to listen to the book and the summary video
- The discussion board
- I liked how we had to make arguments every week instead of one long essay. It helped stay engaged on work on my writing.

Word Cloud Not Available

No text to process or the text does not contain words occurring at least 2 times.

9

What are your suggestions for improving this course? (Please be specific)

(Text/Memo)

- Instructor would often change the class based on miscommunications that could have been explained in the beginning. I feel the feedback for the essays were confusing and it seemed they were never satisfied. This course was an intro course but there was only one book for the entire term, which did not show me variety of what philosophy is and how it affected society. Also we were never explained the background on the book, I did not even know this book was based on real people until half way through the term.
- Make it a little less one-dimensional, like not all about the reading
- If we could've gone over the writing format week one in more detail it would have been useful. By the end of the course I feel like I have a strong grasp on it though.
